LOGO PACK STYLE GUIDE

Use & Misuse

There are certain guidelines we must enforce to ensure the appropriate licensing regulations are being followed.

You may not recolor, adjust, or resize elements of the logo or artwork, or use the logo with distracting or contrasting backgrounds.

This logo is licensed to you with accompanying background art. While you may use the provided title treatments on their own, you may not use any other background art not provided in this logo pack. Conversely, you may not use the provided backgrounds with any other title treatments not provided to you in this logo pack.

The preferred logo lockup is the full logo with accompanying background art, however, we understand varying size requirements. If a simple solution is needed, please use the logo with the dark blue color backgrounds, and if grayscale is needed, the dark gray background is preferred to white (see below for HEX values). If the size makes 'Lerner & Loewe' unintelligible, please switch to the simple BW vector title on white.

Please see accompanying imagery for acceptable use and mis-uses.

Rights & Restrictions

If the logo is used in any of the manners outlined as acceptable, no further approval is required. If you desire to use the logo in ANY other manner (layout or background color) you MUST obtain written permission from Music Theatre International before proceeding.

The logos included are to be used solely for promotion, advertising, print ads or other informational materials, such as programs and/or posters, in conjunction with a paid licensed production of Camelot. Both the right to put on the production and the use of the logo must be licensed from Music Theatre International, and the appropriate fees must be paid for such licenses. The use of this logo on any merchandise or other items to be sold is strictly prohibited.

Also, you may not sell, offer to sell, upload to the internet or otherwise distribute the logos, for commercial gain or otherwise, except permitted uses in connection with promotion of your licensed productions.
